GENERAL INFORMATION

GOOD JOBS CHALLENGE

The Good Jobs Challenge (GJC) grant program, awarded through the U.S. Department of Commerce Economic Development Agency (EDA) as a component of the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), is designed to help Americans recover from the economic effects of the pandemic. By investing $500 million into high-quality, locally led workforce systems, the GJC exists to expand career opportunities and produce a skilled workforce so that the United States is prepared to innovate, compete, and succeed in the 21st century. Through the GJC, EDA has demonstrated its commitment to regional workforce training systems that connect employers with qualified workers and help jobseekers find and keep quality employment to advance along their chosen career path.

MARYLAND WORKS FOR WIND

Through a highly competitive process, EDA selected Maryland as one of 32 GJC recipients and subsequently awarded MD Labor nearly $23,000,000 in August 2022 for the Maryland Works for Wind (MWW) initiative. MWW is a regional consortium committed to establishing Maryland as the country's premiere destination for OSW training, fabrication, and employment. The project includes a robust sectoral partnership inclusive of employers, unions, Local Workforce Development Areas (Local Areas), business alliances, and training providers. Collaboratively, the partners will cultivate a pipeline of skilled talent to support the emerging OSW clean energy industry. Through MWW, MD Labor demonstrates its commitment to drive economic development, connect underrepresented populations to good-paying careers, and build upon existing investments.

The success of MWW hinges on the development of a thriving and diverse ecosystem of Maryland-based partners, including State Agencies, such as the Maryland Energy Administration, employer partners, such as Ørsted and US Wind, as well as a multitude of other partners. MD Labor acknowledges the significant role that each partner plays in the MWW overall project, however, this policy issuance focuses specifically on the role of MD Labor and its subrecipients to provide clear guidance on roles, responsibilities, and other expectations.

MD Labor prepared this policy using Federal funds under award ED22HDQ3070110 from U.S. Department of Commerce EDA. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the views of the EDA or the U.S. Department of Commerce.

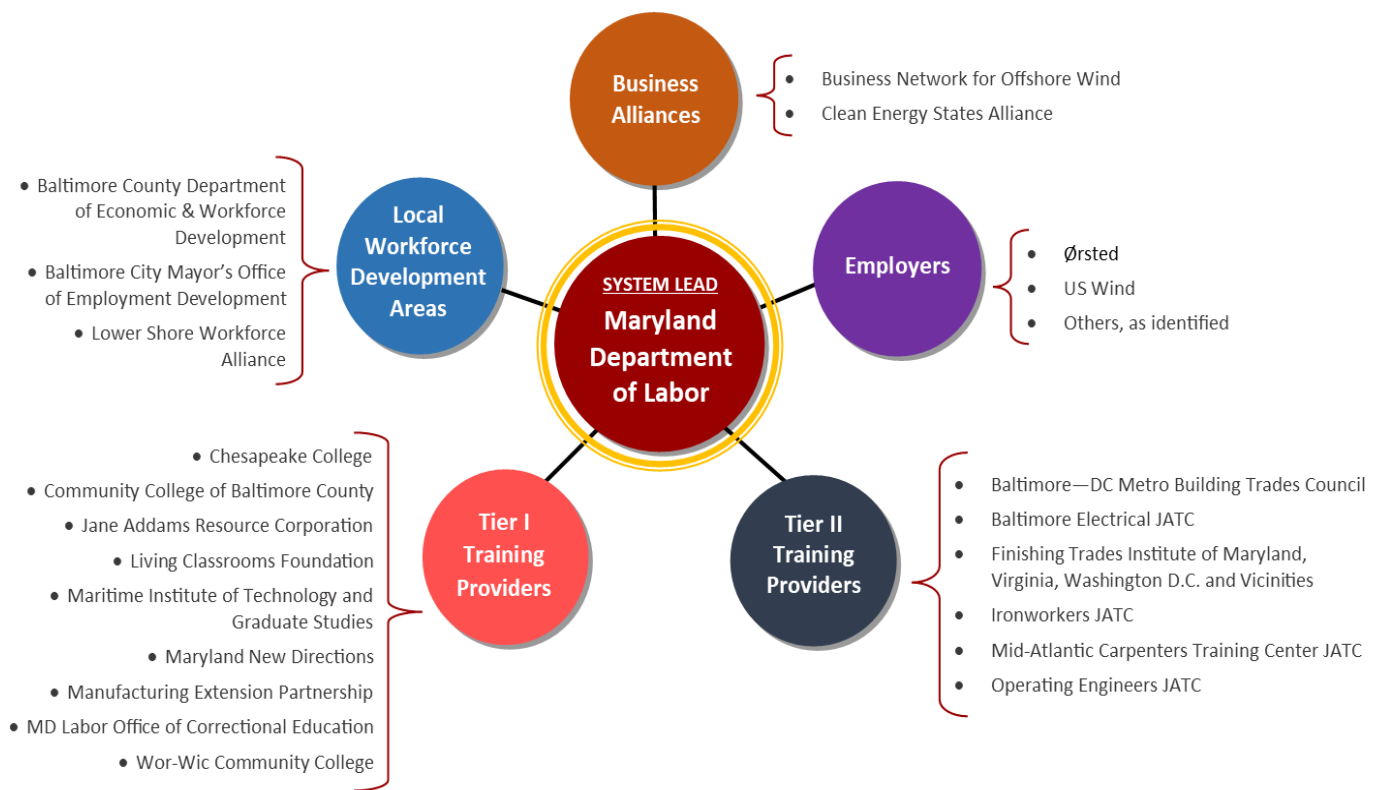

STAKEHOLDER ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

This section of the policy outlines the responsibilities of the following categories of MWW subrecipients:

1. MD Labor, as the GJC system lead;
2. Local Areas;
3. Tier I training providers;
4. Tier II training providers; and,
5. Business Alliances.

The following graphic illustrates the various partners funded through MWW.

Maryland Works for Wind—Project Partners

SYSTEM LEAD

MD Labor's Division of Workforce Development and Adult Learning (DWDAL) serves as the System Lead for MWW. As System Lead, DWDAL leads the project by serving as the intermediary between all stakeholders and works to ensure programs get implemented, meet employer needs, are leading to long-term positive outcomes for workers and their communities, and meet agreed-upon milestones.

DWDAL is the primary contact for EDA and for subrecipients and is responsible for the following leadership components:

1. Oversight of budgetary and programmatic activities through reports and site-visits;
2. Provision of programmatic guidance to subrecipients;
3. Convening program partners biannually; and,
4. Monitoring progress against expectations and providing technical assistance.

While numerous DWDAL staff participate in the MWW activities, it is the primary responsibility of MD Labor's GJC Program Manager to oversee this initiative to ensure its success.

LOCAL WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT AREAS

Local Areas and the overall American Job Center (AJC) system are an essential component of MWW, providing recruitment and referral services, wraparound services, and Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) co-enrollment opportunities for eligible participants. Three of the state's 13 Local Areas have a subrecipient role in MWW:

1. Baltimore County Department of Economic and Workforce Development (DEWD);
2. Lower Shore Workforce Alliance (LSWA); and,
3. Baltimore City Mayor's Office of Employment Development (MOED).

Expectations for the subrecipients are below.

Baltimore County Department of Economic & Workforce Development

Baltimore County's DEWD is responsible for six primary roles in the MWW initiative:

1. Convene the Central Region's¹ MWW partners on a quarterly basis;
2. Collect, analyze, and report data on the following subrecipients on behalf of MD Labor, and submit reports to MD Labor on a monthly basis:
 - a. Central Region Tier I subrecipients; and,
 - b. Tier II subrecipients, which include:
 - i. Baltimore-DC Metro Building Trades Council;
 - ii. Baltimore Electrical Joint Apprenticeship and Training Council (JATC);
 - iii. Finishing Trades Institute of Maryland, Virginia, Washington D.C., and Vicinities;
 - iv. Ironworkers JATC

4. Support employers, specifically those working on OSW projects or in sectors that support OSW, training providers, and jobseekers through targeted activities, as detailed below;
5. Collaborate with the Baltimore City MOED, as needed, to ensure an appropriate level of consistency and connections take place in the region;
6. Collaborate with the Eastern Shore convener, LSWA, as needed, to ensure an appropriate level of consistency and connections take place across the State; and,
7. Evaluate the effectiveness of all activities undertaken in support of MWW by 3/31/2026. Methods of evaluation must include:
 - a. Assisting with participant data collection;
 - b. Working to determine internal metrics for program success; and,
 - c. Analyzing and packaging program data.

Jobseeker Support

At minimum, MD Labor expects DEWD to perform the following activities in support of OSW jobseekers:

1. Regularly conduct outreach to jobseekers about OSW training and employment opportunities, including Registered Apprenticeship careers and other newly developed career pathways, through distribution of both general Labor Market Information and specific information about the range of available occupations and trainings within this emerging industry sector;
2. Raise youth awareness of OSW opportunities through establishing a targeted Offshore Wind Awareness campaign in coordination with Baltimore County Local Education Agency;
3. Develop and implement recruitment activities specifically designed to inform and attract target populations under the WIOA and Maryland’s State Workforce Plan (ex. returning citizens, at-risk youth, unemployed, veterans, individuals in recovery, individuals with disabilities, etc.);
4. Collaborate, as needed, with the Central Region’s MWW Tier I and Tier II training providers to provide case management and career planning support services to trainees. Training Providers and DEWD should work together to determine how case management services can best be provided to participants; and,
5. Create three career pathway guides for MWW industries. Guides should be developed for the following sectors within the OSW industry:
 - a. Manufacturing;
 - b. Logistics; and,
 - c. Skilled Trades.

 - Other skilled trades that are not OSW employers.
2. Understand OSW employers' needs and facilitate connections to Tier I training providers to ensure curriculum meets workforce needs;
3. Connect OSW employers to the MWW network so that they can hire training completers. Employer navigators should coordinate efforts with other Local Areas to minimize duplication of efforts;
4. Host business roundtables to facilitate peer-to-peer connections amongst OSW employers; and,
5. Host recruitment events in partnership with Tier I and II training providers to identify future employees and to showcase the opportunities available to jobseekers in the emerging offshore wind industry.

Lower Shore Workforce Alliance

LSWA is responsible for five primary roles in the MWW initiative:

1. Convene the Eastern Shore's³ MWW partners on a quarterly basis;
2. Support Eastern Shore jobseekers, training providers, and OSW employers through targeted activities, as detailed below;
3. Collaborate with the Central Region convener, DEWD, as needed, to ensure an appropriate level of consistency and connections take place;

2. Connect OSW employers to the MWW network so that they can hire training completers. Employer navigators should coordinate efforts with other Local Areas to minimize duplication of efforts

TIER I TRAINING PROVIDERS

MD Labor has included Tier I training providers in MWW to help develop the initiative with an equity lens, ensuring that those negatively impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, individuals with barriers to employment, individuals currently incarcerated, and traditionally underserved populations have equal opportunity to launch careers in this lucrative field. It is of paramount importance that Marylanders of all skill levels and backgrounds have meaningful access to entry points into OSW career opportunities. Through the provision of high quality occupational training that is industry-driven, coupled with supportive services and barrier removal, Tier I training providers play a key role in Maryland's equity approach to growing and sustaining the State's OSW workforce. Tier I training providers are encouraged to apply to the Maryland Eligible Training Provider List (ETPL) to better leverage other sources of federal workforce funding.

While Tier I occupational training varies from welding and manufacturing to logistics and Commercial Driver’s License training, all Tier I training is interconnected with the overarching mission of creating a prepared and reliable workforce for the emerging OSW industry. The following chart provides information on Maryland’s MWW initiative Tier I training partners:

Wor-Wic Community College	Eastern Shore	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Welding; and, ● Other industry specific training to meet the evolving needs of the industry.

⁶ MITAGS is considered a “specialized Tier I provider” as this organization will not focus exclusively on entry-level occupations. Rather, they will provide specialized OSW training for both Tier I and Tier II participants. MITAGS currently acts as the only specialized Tier I training organization, however, MD Labor may include additional specialized organizations as industry needs evolve.

MD Labor requires all Tier I training providers to perform the following duties:

1. Provide essential entry-level programming that is informed by industry requirements and covers necessary occupational “hard skills” and essential “soft skills;”
2. Address barriers on an individual basis through appropriate supportive services and wraparound supports;
3. Conduct outreach to prospective training participants with a focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion;
4. Provide intensive case management to participants in coordination with the relevant Local Area(s);
5. Provide retention supports to all participants in coordination with Local Areas. Retention services should include support connecting interested Tier I training completers with relevant Tier II training opportunities;⁷
6. Connect program graduates to employers for employment or Tier II training opportunities for further training along the relevant OSW career pathway;
7. Report data to the relevant Local Area in accordance with the reporting requirements of this policy;
8. Participate in professional development opportunities presented by MD Labor and the business alliances to ensure Tier I training provider staff understand the existing, future, and evolving needs of the OSW industry employers and Registered Apprenticeship Sponsors; and,
9. Adhere to organization specific requirements, as documented in the subrecipient’s grant award, and approved by MD Labor and EDA.

TIER II TRAINING PROVIDERS

MD Labor has included Tier II training providers in the MWW initiative to ensure upward mobility along a career pathway is prioritized. It is essential that Marylanders, especially those who complete entry-level training through Tier I MWW opportunities, have access to Registered Apprenticeship careers in the OSW industry. It is also critical that MWW supports the existing skilled trades and Registered Apprenticeship programs to evolve in ways that meet the needs of the OSW industry. Because OSW is a new and emerging industry in Maryland, some of the work on these projects will require skillsets and training outside of the normal work performed by Apprentices in these existing skilled trade industries, including, but not limited to:

1. Specialized rigging training due to the size of OSW turbines and propellers;
2. Specialized welding training for components subject to saltwater exposure; and,
3. GWO Basic Safety Training (to be provided by an external partner).

Tier II training providers will provide advanced skills training through enhancements to existing Registered Apprenticeship career opportunities, leveraging the skills training centers of several Maryland Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committees (JATCs).

MD Labor requires the following of all Tier II training organizations:

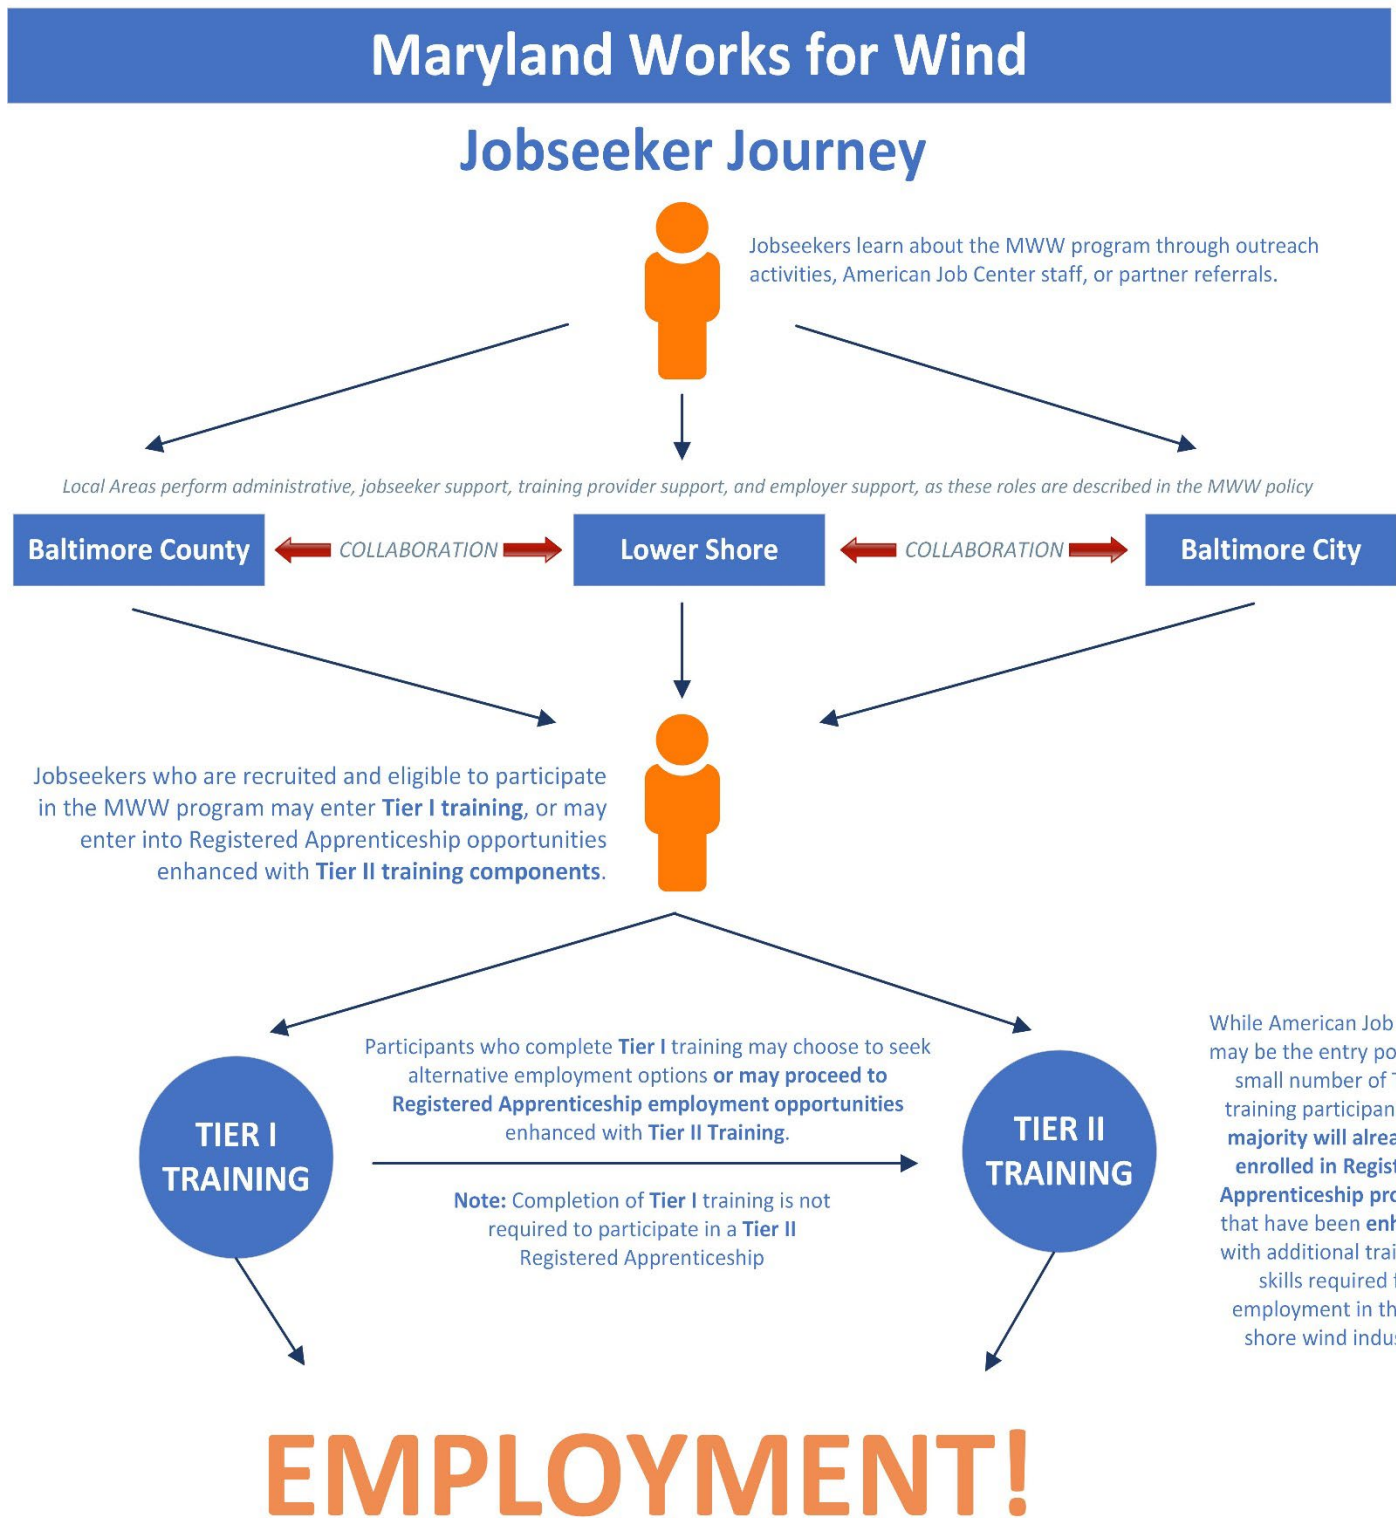

1. Enhance existing Registered Apprenticeship program's curriculum to include new OSW specific training components, as required by employers, such as US Wind and Ørsted;
2. Assist individuals in need of supportive services, as appropriate;⁸
3. Conduct outreach to prospective training participants with a focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion;
4. Connect program graduates to continuing employment or for further training along the relevant OSW career pathway;
5. Provide retention supports to all participants in coordination with Local Areas;
6. Report data to the relevant Local Area in accordance with the reporting requirements of this policy;
7. Participate in professional development opportunities presented by MD Labor and the business alliances to ensure Tier II training provider staff understand the existing, future, and evolving needs of the emerging OSW industry employers;
8. Adhere to organization specific requirements as documented in the subrecipient's grant award, as approved by MD Labor and EDA.⁹

⁸ Assistance may include referring participants to Local Areas and Tier I training providers to address barriers and provide case management and wraparound supports, rather than the Tier II training organization providing the services in-house

⁹ This includes rules for procurement and purchasing equipment as outlined in the "Use of Funds and Timeline of Activities" section below.

JOBSEEKER JOURNEY

The following graphic outlines the path a potential jobseeker may take when they participate in MWW.

BUSINESS ALLIANCES

MD Labor understands the importance of engaging industry experts and employers throughout the course of MWW to ensure that training curriculum aligns with the needs of OSW employers. MD Labor has included two business alliances in the MWW initiative:

1. Business Network for Offshore Wind (BNOW)
2. Clean Energy States Alliance (CESA).

These business alliances are responsible for the following MWW activities:

1. Provide professional development and learning opportunities to MWW stakeholders to ensure all partners are adapting and responsive to current and evolving demands by providing valuable industry expertise;
2. Submit reports directly to MD Labor, as required in this policy issuance;
3. Fulfill specific organizational deliverables, as follows:
 - BNOW: To ensure the continued growth of OSW in Maryland throughout the course of the MWW project and beyond, BNOW must:
 - Provide industry training through the Foundation 2 Blade training program. Trainings must offer a comprehensive review of the industry, including the latest on technology, policy, supply chain, and workforce needs, as well as how local companies can participate in the industry.
 - CESA: To ensure MWW leaders and related stakeholders are well-connected with peers in the region and are fully informed on evolving OSW trends and needs, CESA must:
 - Convene an in-person, two-day meeting for Mid-Atlantic state policy makers; and,
 - Facilitate quarterly virtual meetings for State policy makers.

USE OF FUNDS AND TIMELINE OF ACTIVITIES

USE OF FUNDS

MD Labor will release funds to subrecipients on a reimbursement basis. If a subrecipient requires an advanced payment, they must make a formal request to MD Labor in writing stating the need for the advance. If approved, subrecipients must have the cash on hand for as short a time as possible, not to exceed 30 calendar days, prior to being spent. Funds must be held in a non-interest bearing account.

Subrecipient funds must be spent by September 30, 2025. Services must be received and goods delivered by September 20, 2025, but invoices can be paid/liquidated within the next 60 days.

All subrecipients must follow their pre-approved budget for spending, training, and activities. Any subrecipient that wishes to create new activities and/or expenses outside of their initial budget must first consult with MD Labor. Any alterations are subject to approval by both MD Labor and EDA.

In addition, all purchases of both physical items and services are subject to federal procurement guidelines. Procurements must be competitive and comply with standards in 2 CFR §§ 200.318 through 200.327.¹⁰ Additional details on procurement guidelines can be found in Attachment A – EDA Procurement Guidance.

TIMELINE OF ACTIVITIES

Per EDA’s GJC requirements, MD Labor’s MWW project consists of three distinct phases:

1. System Development;
2. Program Design; and,
3. Program Implementation.

These phases are described in greater detail below.

EDA releases project funds to MD Labor at the beginning of each phase. MD Labor cannot receive funds from EDA for subsequent MWW phases until all grant activities associated with that phase are complete. If an individual subrecipient wishes to begin its activities for the next phase prior to the whole MWW project moving forward, they may request an exception from MD Labor to begin activities early. MD Labor requires that all exception requests are submitted in writing to the MWW program manager. In turn, MD Labor will review requests timely and communicate them to EDA to seek approval. EDA has made it clear to all GJC grantees that they will only approve exceptions in rare circumstances. Otherwise, MD Labor and subrecipients must only perform activities within the pre-approved, designated timeframe/phase. This means that projects are not able to complete activities in multiple phases concurrently.

Phase 1: System Development

MWW’s system development phase addresses the challenge of ensuring there is a skilled workforce available to meet the unique demands of OSW employers. To fulfill EDA’s requirements of Phase 1, the following must occur:

¹⁰ 2 CFR 200.313-200.327, “General Procurement Standards.”

Responsible Stakeholder(s)	Activity to be Completed
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● MD Labor 	Engage all partners, both individually and collectively, to ensure maximum collaboration and coordination
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● MD Labor 	Release policy and programmatic guidance
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● MD Labor 	Provide technical assistance to stakeholders, as needed

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● BNOW 	Host a statewide convening on OSW

Phase 2 - Program Design

The focus of Phase 2 - Program Design is to finalize the critical components of Maryland’s regional OSW training system to ensure a seamless transition into the program implementation phase. To fulfill EDA’s requirements of Phase 2, the following must occur, at a minimum:

Responsible Stakeholder(s)	Activity to be Completed
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Tier I training providers ● Tier II training providers 	Finalize training curriculum and begin outreach and recruitment activities.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Tier I training providers ● Tier II training providers 	Procure equipment, materials, and supplies required for implementing training.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● MD Labor ● Baltimore County DEWD ● LSWA ● Baltimore City MOED ● Business Alliances 	Ongoing technical assistance

Equipment Purchases

All Tier I and II training providers must procure equipment in accordance with 2 CFR. 200.313¹¹ or 2 CFR 200.439,¹² comply with EDA property requirements at 13 C.F.R. part 314,¹³ and follow the procurement guidelines outlined in this policy.

¹¹ 2 CFR 200.313, “Equipment.”

¹² 2 CFR 200.439, “Equipment and other capital expenditures.”

¹³ 13 CFR part 314, “PROPERTY.”

Subrecipients must agree to provide EDA with a Security Agreement on any equipment for which the unit cost is $5,000 or greater.¹⁴ Subrecipients are further required to execute and record a UCC-1 form that maintains a lien for the benefit of EDA for any and all equipment purchased. Subrecipients must file this form with the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation (SDAT) throughout the useful life of the equipment.¹⁵ If the equipment is a vehicle, subrecipients may list EDA as a secured party on the certificate of title in order to secure the lien. EDA must remain listed as a secured party throughout the Estimated Useful Life on any equipment. Subrecipients must provide proof of lien to MD Labor, who must submit to EDA, prior to the disbursement of funds.

Subrecipients must maintain and submit to MD Labor a list of all equipment purchased that includes:

1. The brand name and model number;
2. The unit’s unique serial number;
3. The location where the equipment will be housed; and,
4. The estimated Useful Life.

MD Labor requires that subrecipients update the list with every purchase and request for reimbursement in a timely manner. This list must be reported via Attachment B – Monthly Participant and Equipment Information Report. Subrecipients must be insured and maintain all equipment in accordance with Federal Property Standards.¹⁶

If a subrecipient would like to purchase equipment that was not included in the original grant application, it must first be approved by MD Labor and EDA.

Phase 3 - Program Implementation

The program implementation phase, which consists of the bulk of MWW’s activities, showcases a fully operational OSW workforce training system in Maryland. To fulfill EDA’s requirements of Phase 3, the following must occur:

This may include referring participants to other MWW entities for support or providing those services in-house.

Examples of supportive services include, but are not limited to:

1. Assistance obtaining a driver’s license;
2. Transportation assistance;
3. Purchase of uniforms, tools, or other related equipment;
4. Child or dependent care;
5. Union initiation fees;
6. Basic skills assessment and basic skills coursework;
7. English for Speakers of Other Language classes; and,
8. Clothing for job interviews/job fairs.

REPORTING, MONITORING AND RECORD RETENTION

REPORTING

Subrecipient Reporting Requirements

MD Labor requires MWW subrecipients to submit monthly program and fiscal reports, as detailed below. MD Labor will utilize information provided in the subrecipient's monthly reports for all reporting requirements to EDA. All subrecipient reports should be sent via email to Mary Keller at mary.keller@maryland.gov, Dorothee Schlotterbeck at dorothee.schlotterbeck@maryland.gov, and their respective Local Area contact.

Program Reports

MD Labor requires MWW subrecipients to submit monthly program reports no later than the 10th of the month following reported activity. These reports include:

1. Attachment B – Monthly Participant and Equipment Information Report,¹⁷ and,
2. Attachment C – Subrecipient Monthly Program Report.

MD Labor utilizes information provided in the subrecipient's monthly reports for all reporting requirements to EDA.

Fiscal Reports

In addition to program reporting, MD Labor requires subrecipients submit monthly fiscal reports and invoices no later than the 10th of the month following reported activity. This report can be found in Attachment D – Subrecipient Monthly Fiscal Report and Invoice.

The costs on the monthly fiscal report must match the costs on the invoice.

Subrecipients must submit both parts of the report in order to be reimbursed for any costs incurred for the project.

Confidentiality and Waiver

All program participants must sign a consent to release data for the purpose of reporting and program evaluation. The Consent will permit the disclosure of data protected under relevant confidentiality laws. A sample release can be found in Attachment E – Consent to Release Participant Information.

DEWD and LSWA Reporting Requirements

MD Labor requires DEWD and LSWA submit combined subrecipient reports no later than the 20th of the month following reported activity. MD Labor makes subrecipient level data available to DEWD and LSWA as needed.

¹⁷ Business Alliances are not required to submit Attachment B, as they are not providing direct services to program participants.

MD Labor's Reporting Requirements

EDA requires MD Labor to submit the following reports:

1. Quarterly program reports;
2. Semi-annual progress and fiscal reports; and,
3. End of Project program and fiscal reports.

Quarterly Reports/Check-Ins

MD Labor must submit quarterly reports to EDA via the EDA Workforce Data Collection Instrument. This report includes data from MD Labor as well as data submitted to MD Labor via subrecipients' monthly reports, as outlined in the previous section. An example of the quarterly report can be found in Attachment F – EDA Workforce Data Collection Instrument Template. In addition to written reports, EDA will conduct quarterly progress report calls and/or site visits to receive updates on program progress.

Semi-Annual Reports

In addition to the quarterly reporting, MD Labor must submit two semi-annual reports:

1. Performance Progress Report; and,
2. Federal Financial Reports.

These reports describe the progress on MD Labor's performance metrics, as well as the current financial status of the project. Semi-Annual reports are due 30 days after the reporting period closes.

End of Project Reports

Lastly, at the conclusion of the project MD Labor must submit the following to EDA 120 after the award end date:

1. Final Progress report; and,
2. Federal Financial Report.

MONITORING

MD Labor recognizes that the U.S. Department of Commerce has the authority to monitor fiscal and/or programmatic performance related to funds awarded via the MWW program. MD Labor may conduct desk and/or on-site monitoring on MWW subrecipients to ensure that policies are being followed, expectations are being met, monthly program and fiscal reports are accurate, and to review the back-up documentation for the sampled reports.

Additionally, any subrecipient that expends $750,000 or more of Federal awards during the fiscal year must have a single or program-specific audit conducted for that year in accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200.501.

RECORD RETENTION

MD Labor requires subrecipients of MWW to retain records for at least five years following the award end date or until all audit and litigation issues are resolved, whichever is later. If any litigation, claim, or audit is started before the expiration of the five-year period, the records then must be retained until all litigation, claims, or audit findings involving the records have been resolved, and final action has been taken.

All records, both electronic and physical, must be maintained in accordance with Training and Employment Guidance Letter 39-11, “Guidance on the Handling and Protection of Personally Identifiable Information (PII)”¹⁸ as well as DWDAL’s policy concerning security¹⁹ to maintain confidentiality and protect PII. PII is participant-level and employee data that either by itself, or combined with other data, can link to a specific individual or identity.

When emailing documents containing PII, all grantees and MD Labor staff must use password-protection, encryption-preferred, strong authentication procedures, or other security controls to make the information unusable by unauthorized individuals. Physical records must be kept in locked offices or file rooms. If the file room is shared with other programs, and/or staff other than staff authorized for this program have access to that room, then the files must be maintained in locked cabinets.

PROCUREMENT GUIDANCE FOR EDA AWARDS

Procurement of property and services is a common post-award activity, and this resource is intended to support EDA staff in communicating compliance requirements. All EDA recipients must adhere to federal procurement standards in procurements under an EDA award. As with the Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements (Uniform Guidance), these rules also apply to subrecipients, and recipients are responsible for monitoring subrecipients to ensure compliance with all award conditions and requirements. Importantly, per 2 C.F.R. § 200.317, States (and entities that are required by State law to follow State procurement requirements) are required to follow their own procurement requirements; therefore, the below guidance does not apply to State recipients. EDA retains the right to request and review award documentation at any point in the period of performance.¹

To see the full text of the Procurement Standards of the Uniform Guidance, refer to 2 C.F.R. 200.317 – 200.327.

Informal procurement methods – for procurements up to $250,000 2 CFR 200.320(a)

Procurement amount	Type of procurement	Requirements
$10,000 and under Please note that if the Recipient or Subrecipient maintains appropriate documentation, the Recipient or Subrecipient may increase the micro-purchase threshold to $50,000 in accordance with the requirements at 2 CFR 200.320(a)(1)(iv).	Micro-purchase	Micro-purchases may be awarded without soliciting competitive price or rate quotations if the Recipient or Subrecipient considers the price to be reasonable based on research, experience, purchase history or other information and documents the Recipient or Subrecipient's files accordingly. Purchase cards can be used for micro-purchases if procedures are documented and approved by the non-Federal entity.
Between $10,000 and $250,000	Small purchase	If small purchase procedures are used, price or rate quotations must be obtained from an adequate number of qualified sources as determined appropriate by the non-Federal entity. In general, at least three qualified sources are considered "an adequate number of qualified sources."

¹ Please note that this document is a summary of the Procurement Standards set out in the Uniform Guidance (2 C.F.R. 200.217 – 200.327) and is for information only. It does not constitute EDA guidance and does not supersede the language of the Uniform Guidance. Please contact EDA with questions.

Formal procurement methods – for procurements over $250,000

Formal procurements require one of the following methods as appropriate to the type of procurement
2 CFR 200.320(b)

Procurement amount	Type of procurement	Requirements
Over $250,000	Sealed bids – a procurement method in which bids are publicly solicited and a firm fixed-price contract (lump sum or unit price) is awarded to the responsible bidder whose bid, conforming with all the material terms and conditions of the invitation for bids, is the lowest in price. Preferred in the following conditions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A. A complete, adequate, and realistic specification or purchase description is available; B. Two or more responsible bidders are willing and able to compete effectively for the business; and C. The procurement lends itself to a firm fixed price contract and the selection of the successful bidder can be made principally on the basis of price. 	If sealed bids are used, the following requirements apply: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A. Bids must be solicited from an adequate number of qualified sources, providing them sufficient response time prior to the date set for opening the bids, for local, and tribal governments, the invitation for bids must be publicly advertised; B. The invitation for bids, which will include any specifications and pertinent attachments, must define the items or services in order for the bidder to properly respond; C. All bids will be opened at the time and place prescribed in the invitation for bids, and for local and tribal governments, the bids must be opened publicly; D. A firm fixed price contract award will be made in writing to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder. Where specified in bidding documents, factors such as discounts, transportation cost, and life cycle costs must be considered in determining which bid is lowest. Payment discounts will only be used to determine the low bid when prior experience indicates that such discounts are usually taken advantage of; and E. Any or all bids may be rejected if there is a sound documented reason.

PROCUREMENT GUIDANCE FOR EDA AWARDS

Over $250,000	Proposals – a procurement method in which either a fixed price or cost-reimbursement type contract is awarded. Generally used when conditions are not appropriate for the use of sealed bids.	They are awarded in accordance with the following requirements: A. Requests for proposals must be publicized and identify all evaluation factors and their relative importance. Proposals must be solicited from an adequate number of qualified offerors. Any response to publicized requests for proposals must be considered to the maximum extent practical; B. The non-Federal entity must have a written method for conducting technical evaluations of the proposals received and making selections; C. Contracts must be awarded to the responsible offeror whose proposal is most advantageous to the non-Federal entity, with price and other factors considered; and D. The non-Federal entity may use competitive proposal procedures for qualifications-based procurement of architectural/engineering (A/E) professional services whereby offeror's qualifications are evaluated and the most qualified offeror is selected, subject to negotiation of fair and reasonable compensation. The method, where price is not used as a selection factor, can only be used in procurement of A/E professional services. It cannot be used to purchase other types of services though A/E firms that are a potential source to perform the proposed effort.

EDA Workforce Data Collection Instrument

Notes to Inform the Reasoning of Questionnaires Design

- Reasonable opportunity to measure quality and mobility job metrics with individual tracking vs inclusion in the survey
- It is important we measure demographics against outcomes, over time to see equity variables. We would do this at the individual level. Very hard to do at the training provider level.
- Ideally, we use a data survey platform that would store permanent answers to data fields e.g., core characteristics and use pipe text/auto fill from grant applicant information we already have
