DORS

Michelle Stewart, Regional Director – Region 2

Division of Rehabilitation Services (DORS)

michelle.stewart@maryland.gov

What services are provided to youth/young adults between the ages of 14-24?

Services May Include:

Pre-Employment Transition Services for high school students

Assistive Technology

Technical/vocational training

Assistance with higher education

Job search, placement, and job-keeping services

Supported Employment

Eligibility Criteria:

Pre-Employment Transition Services are available to HS students with disabilities regardless of the severity of the disability; and

Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) Services are available to Eligible students in their last 2 years of high school as well as to youth and adults with significant and most significant disabilities with a goal of employment

What is the referral process?

- Referrals can be completed on-line: www.dors.maryland.gov, or by calling your local DORS office and completing a referral via telephone.
- DORS maintains a Transition Counselor Liaison with every public high school in the State of Maryland.
- DORS Transition Counselors participate in local transition events throughout the State.
- Learn more about DORS services by visiting our website: www.dors.maryland.gov

Do you have any WIOA-related or other programmatic updates to share?

The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) requires VR agencies to set aside at least 15% of federal funds to provide “Pre-Employment Transition Services” to high school students with disabilities.

As a result of WIOA, DORS now provides services to high school students through 2 distinctive programs:

- VR Services available to Students with Disabilities in their last 2 years of high school as well as out-of-school youth and adults with significant disabilities;
- Pre-Employment Transition Services for students with disabilities who have more than 2 years left of high school.

With whom do you partner or work in collaboration to provide youth services?

DORS partners with a number of local and State agencies to provide services to Students with Disabilities. A few examples include

- Local Education Agencies – collaborating to assure that students are connected to services and receive transition services;
- American Job Centers – partnerships to expand Summer Employment opportunities;
- DDA – providing services to students under the Governor’s Transitioning Youth Initiative prior to the transition into long-term employment supports; and
- BHA – providing Evidenced Based Supported Employment Services to students and youth with disabilities as they transition into long-term employment supports.

DORS also partners with numerous community rehabilitation providers for services such as job development and job coaching as consumers transition into competitive integrated employment.

What are some misconceptions regarding your program/services?

A common misconception is that students on the DORS waitlist for VR services are not able to receive services until they have come off the waitlist.

- Students with Disabilities on the DORS VR waitlist CAN participate in Pre-Employment Transition Services while they wait!

Another common misconception/fear for those who receive SSI/SSDI, is that they will lose benefits if they go to work.

- DORS provides various levels of Benefits Counseling Services to consumers receiving SSI/SSDI helping them to understand work incentives offered through SSA and the many benefits of working.

What are the takeaways from your program?

What We Know:

- Youth who participate in work-based learning while still in school have better employment outcomes as adults!
- Early intervention and collaboration with schools and community partners breeds success!
- High parental expectations are an evidenced-based predictor of post-school success for students with disabilities!

What are the takeaways from your program?

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEIA)

- IDEA 2004 defines transition as, “designed to be within a results-oriented process that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child’s movement from school to postsecondary activities.” The regulations for IDEA 2004, released August 14, 2006, clarify the purpose of transition services as being “designed to meet students’ unique needs and prepare them for further education, employment, and independent living.”
- Transition services are further defined as a coordinated set of activities for a student with a disability that:
 - Is designed to be within a results-oriented process, focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child’s movement from school to post-school activities, including postsecondary education; vocational education; integrated employment; continuing and adult education; adult services; independent living or community participation;
 - Is based on the individual child’s needs, taking into account their strengths, preferences, and interests; and
 - Includes instruction, related services, community experiences, the development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives and when appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation.
- In Maryland, transition planning and the delivery of transition services begins during the school year in which the student turns 14 years of age.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Transition Planning

The goal of transition planning is to assist students with disabilities as they progress through school and prepare for life in the adult world. The adult activities could be a combination of any of the following:

- Employment
- Post-secondary education
- Employment training
- Independent living
- Community participation
- Adult services

Transition planning for a student's future begins in elementary school during career awareness and exploration activities. The family has a vital role in the child's awareness of careers. They can share personal experiences and assist their children to learn about the employment of family members and neighbors.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Transition Planning is the first step in developing the Individualized Education Program (IEP) for students, age 14 and older. It begins with the student sharing his/her interests and preferences with a member of the school staff:

- The student and school staff establish post-secondary outcomes in employment; post-secondary education or employment training; and if appropriate, independent living. These post-secondary outcomes are based upon the results of age-appropriate transition assessments.
- The school staff then backward-maps to address what services, including course of study and annual goals, will be needed during the coming school year to reasonably enable the student to progress toward his/her outcome (all of this information is included in the IEP).
- This process is repeated annually to make sure the student has the same interests and outcomes. Any adjustments to the IEP will be made to ensure that the student continues to move toward his/her stated outcomes.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Maryland Summary of Performance

A Summary of Performance (SOP) is required under the reauthorization of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 2004. The language as stated in IDEA 2004 regarding the SOP is as follows: For a child whose eligibility under special education terminates due to graduation with a regular diploma, or due to exceeding the age of eligibility, the local education agency “shall provide the child with a summary of the child’s academic achievement and functional performance, which shall include recommendations on how to assist the child in meeting the child’s post-secondary goals” §Sec. 300.305(e)(3).

What are the takeaways from your program?

The Maryland Summary of Performance (MSOP) report pulls the necessary information from the IEP to satisfy the OSEP regulations of providing a summary upon exit. This new report replaces the Maryland Exit Document. The purpose of the MSOP is to provide the young adult with a summary of their academic achievement and functional performance in order to assist them to transition beyond high school. With the accompanying documentation, it is important to assist the student in the transition from high school to higher education, training and/or employment.

What are the takeaways from your program?

This information is necessary under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act to help establish a student's eligibility for reasonable accommodations and supports in post-secondary settings. It is also useful for the Vocational Rehabilitation Comprehensive Assessment process. The information about student's current level of functioning is intended to help postsecondary institutions consider accommodations for access.

There are four required components to the mandated SOP:

1. Student Demographics,
2. Accommodations/Modifications/Supplementary Aids/Services,
3. Present Levels of Performance; and
4. And the student's postsecondary goals.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Secondary Digital Portfolio System

Maryland is involved in Phase 1 of the implementation of a Statewide Maryland Transition Digital Portfolio that aims to promote a collaborative, data-informed decision-making process using relevant secondary transition data. The portfolio is designed to engage students with disabilities, families, educators, agencies, and community partners to support students with disabilities in their pursuit to be college, career, and community ready.

The Maryland Transition Digital Portfolio is a student-driven portfolio that includes selected tasks previously completed for the student as part of Maryland's Exit Document.

What are the takeaways from your program?

This first phase of the Maryland Transition Digital Portfolio is concluding this year. Four local school systems participated during the 2015-2016 school year. Full implementation across the State is set for the 2017-2018 school year.

Phase 1

- Cecil County- Age 14
- Frederick County- Age 16
- Carroll County- Age 18
- Caroline County- Age 21

We have identified additional stakeholders to participate in a Digital Portfolio Showcase after the final content is included (Summer 2016). We are looking specifically at representatives from some of our state initiatives, employers, college disability support professionals, workforce program, professionals, adult providers, parent advocacy organizations, (who would include those that would benefit from a young adult using this portfolio).

JOB CORPS

Jobina C. Brown, Business & Governmental Affairs

Woodland Job Corps

Brown.Jobina@jobcorps.org

What services are provided to youth/young adults between the ages of 14-24?

Specific services that Woodland Job Corps provides to youth

- Job Corps provides vocational and academic training (if needed) to all students.
- Each student has up to 2 years to complete a vocational trade of their choice and complete their GED or HSD if still needed.
- Job Corps also provides academic classes even if students have their HSD but come in under 8th grade reading and math levels.
- Job Corps provides driver's education to each student.
- Housing, food, recreation, and basic medical care is provided for all students.
- Students are provided with a year's worth of follow-up services after they graduate to ensure they are working and/or utilizing the skills they learned while in Job Corps.

Targeted populations

- Job Corps targeted population is those youth out-of-school (drop-outs or those who got kicked out) or those youth that cannot afford college/ are not college bound. Most students come from Baltimore City and Prince George's County.

What is the referral process?

- Job Corps hosts “Open Houses” and on-site tours of local centers with local high schools, DHR, DSS, DJS, American Job Center Staff, local churches, and many other community agencies. Additionally, Job Corps will go to various agencies and do a presentation to their staff or interested clients, as needed.

Do you have any WIOA-related or other programmatic updates to share?

There are no changes in WIOA that would directly impact Job Corps' relationship with DLLR or eligible youth Maryland.

There are internal changes to the way DOL will measure outcomes as well as the overall directive that Job Corps work with State and local workforce entities funded through WIOA to create a seamless workforce development system for youth.

Job Corps will still maintain 2 locations in the State and serve the same population.

The legislation does not require that the Centers change their trades or educational offerings.

Although WIOA, unlike WIA, does not require a BCL, Adams will continue to have BCLs to facilitate relationships between Job Corps Centers and partners in Maryland.

The legislation also does not require CRCs, but Adams' Corporate Policy will maintain this form of community outreach.

With whom do you partner or work in collaboration to provide youth services?

Job Corps has partnerships with

- LOWES
- PEPCO
- Hilton Hotel
- Anne Arundel Community College
- Prince George's Community College
- Wired Fusion
- Sodexo
- Yo Baltimore
- Brickman Landscaping
- HBI
- IEC

What are some misconceptions regarding your program/services?

- Job Corps brings in students who are criminals.
- Job Corps is a court mandated program.
- Job Corps does not support students with disabilities.
- Students who have learning disabilities do not have to work harder than students without a disabilities.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Some Highlights:

- Job Corps is a no-cost educational and vocational training program administered by the U.S. Department of Labor.
- Funded by Congress, Job Corps has been training young adults for meaningful careers since 1964. Job Corps is committed to offering all students a safe, drug-free environment where they can take advantage of the resources provided.
- Job Corps' mission is to attract eligible young people, teach them the skills they need to become employable and independent, and place them in meaningful jobs or further education.

Symposium for Maryland Workforce Professionals

“Understanding, Integrating and Maximizing Youth Services”

MD DEPT. OF HEALTH & MENTAL HYGIENE

Kris Wright, LCPC | Project Director MD-HT
Maryland Healthy Transitions, Behavioral Health Administration
kris.wright@maryland.gov

What services are provided to youth/young adults between the ages of 14-24?

Our providers offer an array of services, including:

- Maryland Model of Transition Age Youth (TAY) Supports - a person centered, coordinated approach to collaborative skills teaching, health and wellness, and resource management to help TAY achieve independence and goals of their choosing, incorporating evidence based practices and supports
- Supported Employment - assisting in identifying areas of skill and interest, developing job search and networking skills; getting competitive placements; keeping jobs; and following career paths
- Supported Education - support in exploring career relevant education options; applying for admission and financial aid; advocating for accommodations; learning study skills; and staying successful
- Assertive Community Treatment – a flexible, mobile treatment modality for those struggling to get needs met in traditional outpatient settings
- Family Psychoeducation - facilitates partnerships between TAY, their families and supports through education, resources, skills training and ongoing guidance about managing health, problem solving, social, and emotional supports
- Peer and Family Supports - connections for youth and family members to individuals who have lived experiences

Target populations: Transition Age Youth (ages 16-25) who have or are at risk for, Serious Behavioral Health Conditions. There are many TAY-serving programs throughout the State.

MD-HT's expansion of services and evaluation activities are in Howard, Calvert, Charles, and St. Mary's Counties.

What is the referral process?

- Anyone can initiate the referral process. MD-HT and many other TAY-serving programs in the State have applications that must be completed by/with the youth and signed by the youth (and parent as applicable). Any professional can assist with this process.
- A licensed clinician must also complete his/her part of the referral, confirm the diagnosis, recommend additional support, and indicated the referral is medically necessary. If the youth does not currently see a clinician, you or the provider agency can assist with connecting to a clinic for assessment, diagnosis and referral.
- Completed applications with referrals are reviewed and approved by the CSA (for grant funded programs) or our ASO (Beacon/ValueOptions).
- MD-HT has an outreach and education team working to raise awareness about youth's behavioral health needs, reduce stigma about receiving services, and help connect youth to services. We are happy to present to groups or participate in events with any youth-serving or youth-involved organizations including schools, community centers, homeless shelters, outpatient clinics, staff meetings, health fairs, etc. Creative ideas are always welcome. Contact kris.wright@maryland.gov for more info.

Do you have any WIOA-related or other programmatic updates to share?

- Employment supports are an integral part of a youth's progression through discovery towards independence. Supported Employment is a part of all TAY programs and TAY staff coordinate closely with Employment Specialists. Youth desiring WIOA services can participate with other providers. Some organizations with TAY teams may also provide WIOA services, however those services are distinct from IPS Supported Employment.
- To assist with rolling our best practices out to new programs/regions in the State, we are revamping our model to add training resources, address additional and/or evolving TAY needs, and implement fidelity tools.

With whom do you partner or work in collaboration to provide youth services?

We are happy to partner with any other TAY serving programs to collaborate on services. Examples of current partnerships include

- DJS – identifying symptoms in justice-involved youth and implementing services towards reducing recidivism
- DSS – providing community-based supports for TAY in foster care or aging out-of-the-system
- High Schools – working with youth who have IEP supports and youth whose BH concerns do not or have not yet impacted school performance
- Colleges – providing Supported Education and helping youth with existing or emerging symptoms succeed in degree seeking or vocational training programs
- Substance Abuse Clubhouses – working with youth who discover their substance use is linked to mental health conditions

What are some misconceptions regarding your program/services?

- Program eligibility – to be eligible for the Public Behavioral Health System (PBHS) services, youth must have a current diagnosis and meet financial eligibility criteria, including applying for and, for some programs, having Medical Assistance (MA). You CAN have and use MA and private insurance (through parents or through employment) at the same time.
- “If you get a job, you will lose your benefits forever!” – This is NOT true! Many safety nets exist to promote work and financial self sufficiency. Even if checks are reduced, you will have more money when working.
- PBHS services are for youth with any behavioral health diagnosis – you may have ADHD, learning disabilities, and some intellectual disabilities co-occurring with a primary behavioral health concern. When these other diagnoses are the primary need or source of functional impairment, other programs are a better fit. In those cases, programs and/or CSAs can help you identify resources.

What are the takeaways from your program?

- Agency Responsibilities – serving TAY with/ at risk for serious behavioral health conditions
- Services Provided – person-centered, seamlessly-integrated, developmentally-appropriate, evidence-based, and empirically-supported TAY services for education, employment, community supports, and activities of daily living
- Key Initiatives – MD-HT and TAY programs throughout the State, collaborations with First Episode Psychosis efforts
- Successful Outcomes – youth participating in normative activities and achieving goals of their choosing
- Best Practices – The Maryland Model of TAY Supports

Do you have any WIOA-related or other programmatic updates to share?

- List any changes in your agency that have impacted your delivery of services, communications, or locations. (i.e. closing of sites/locations, new programs or services, changes to program design/operations, etc.)
 - Some providers of service are participating in PETS programs
 - We continue to urge providers to use AJC, DORS and generic resources.
- Cite any pertinent programmatic changes that are forthcoming for professionals that serve youth

 - Employment is the first and primary support provided to all people receiving support from DDA.

With whom do you partner or work in collaboration to provide youth services?

- Provide specific contact information or outline how others can locate/connect with their partners.
- <http://dda.dhmf.maryland.gov/Pages/providers.aspx>

What are some misconceptions regarding your program/services?

Identify one or more common misconceptions about your agency/division/service provision.

- Youth with significant disabilities need to receive supports in a segregated center as they can't get or keep a job
- DDA Services are not an entitlement

Clarify / Explain possible misinformation that has repeatedly hindered service delivery. (i.e. Inappropriate referral for services that you do not provide)

- Using the best practice of Customized Employment which is now being introduced in MD: trained, skilled staff are able to identify contributions in every person. Skilled job developers take the person's contribution and match it to an employer's need or help the person start their own business.

What are the takeaways from your program?

Highlight the following:

- Agency Responsibilities: DDA is a policy based funding source-not a service provider. DDA sets the parameters of what will be funded and funds local non profits to provide the services.
- Services Provided: In general, employment, wrap-around and residential supports.
<http://dda.dhmh.maryland.gov/Pages/services.aspx>
- Key Initiatives: Employment First, Self Advocacy, Self Direction, Supporting Families, and Supported Living

Take Aways

- Successful Outcomes: When a person with developmental disabilities lives the life he/she envisioned for himself/herself.
- Best Practices: Start with the person. Create a person centered plan with the person and those who know him/her best. Identify a provider and other resources to help the person achieve his/her goals. Research indicated these three goals:
 - 1) I choose where and with whom I live*
 - 2) I work and am paid for what I do*
 - 3) There are people in my life that I choose who are not paid to be in my life*

BARBARA MARTIN | Statewide AJC Operations Manager
DLLR/ Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation
Office of Workforce Development
Email: Barbara.Martin@Maryland.gov

What services are provided to youth/young adults between the ages of 14-24?

List the specific services your agency/division provides to youth.

In an American Job Center (AJC), also known as a One-Stop, the DLLR Office of Workforce Development may provide

- Title III (Wagner Peyser Funding)
- Veterans Services
- Business Services
- Trade Adjustment (Rapid Response)

First, to clarify:

DLLR AJC Career Services (also known through its funding source, “Wagner Peyser”) works in conjunction with a number of partners, including DLLR Adult Learning, (Title II) WIOA recipient partners (Title I), local organizations and many other local groups.

Discuss targeted populations, program objectives and areas served.

DLLR OWD goal: To assist job seekers in finding jobs and employers in finding qualified workers. Career services staff work with all customers legally authorized to work in the U.S.

WIOA legislates the participation of four core partners: Title I (Youth, Adult, and Dislocated Workers); Title II (Adult Learning); Title III (Labor Exchange Services; and Vocational Rehabilitation (DORS)

Additionally, the State of Maryland has included the mandatory partners TANF (through the Department of Human Resources/Social Services); Jobs for Veteran State Grant (JVSG), and Trade and Second Chance Act (Ex-Offender)

For more information, contact those providers. The balance of this section focuses on DWDAL Career Services.

What is the referral process?

Under WIOA there is no “one right door.” Customers may select whatever services in which they are interested and for which they are qualified. (Examples: job search assistance, workshops and trainings, consultation with career services staff regarding options, and access to individual training funds or ITAs).

Based upon interviews and testing, customers may be referred to a partner for more appropriate services. DLLR OWD and others are working out a means to “warm transfer” information on those customers through common intakes and staff-to-staff communication.

- Discuss recruitment activities, methods of outreach and where information about these activities may be found. (i.e. If information is posted online, please provide the web address if available)

There is confusion in understanding the different roles/responsibilities between Title I (local WIOA partner) and Title III (DWDAL) programs.

- Clarify / Explain possible misinformation that has repeatedly hindered service delivery. (i.e. Inappropriate referral for services that you do not provide)

Although the goal is to provide seamless services, DLLR staff and local staff can each provide general and introductory information, workshops and other career services. It is each local WIOA partner who will continue to provide “WIOA training funds” through Individual Training Accounts (ITAs).

What are the takeaways from your program?

Highlight the following:

- Agency Responsibilities: DWDAL OWD seeks to assist job seekers with finding jobs, and businesses with finding employees.
- Services Provided: OWD provides career services to job seekers, services to veterans; Rapid Response to dislocated workers; and consultation services to businesses
- Key Initiatives: Create opportunities to cross train and leverage staff abilities to serve more customers.
