

General Overview of Regular Unemployment Insurance Program

Each state administers its own unemployment insurance (UI) program, which provides temporary financial support to eligible individuals. In Maryland, this is referred to as the regular UI program.

1. How do I apply?

Apply for UI benefits (called filing an initial claim) in the U.S. state or district where you worked, not where you live. You may file:

- in the online BEACON UI system (beacon.labor.maryland.gov/);
- by phone at 667-207-6520 (Monday to Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.).

2. How do I know if I am eligible?

After you file an initial claim, you will receive a benefit determination (in BEACON and through your preferred communication method, which you select when you file an initial claim).

Your determination will include whether you are eligible for UI benefits, your weekly benefit amount, etc. If you disagree with the determination, you may file an appeal. For details, see the UI Appeals page (at MDunemployment.com).

Eligibility Requirements

To be determined eligible for regular UI, you must:

• Be unemployed through no fault of their own;
• Be able to work and available for work without restrictions;
• Actively search for work; and,
• Have earned sufficient wages in a one-year period (standard or alternate base period). <ul style="list-style-type: none">○ For the standard base period, we go back 18 months and look at the wages you earned in the first year of the 18-month period.○ If you are not eligible for UI under the standard base period, the alternate base period may be used. For the alternate base period, we look at your wages in a one-year period (the four most recently-completed calendar quarters).

NOTE: If you are receiving pay that is deductible from UI benefits (vacation, holiday, or special pay, severance, retirement/pension pay, or back pay/damages), your benefits may be delayed or denied.

See the Claims Filing - Initial Claims FAQs (at MDunemployment.com) for more.

3. How much will I receive?

Your weekly benefit amount (WBA) is based on your earnings in the base period and ranges from $50 to $430 in Maryland. If eligible, you may receive up to 26 weeks of regular UI benefits.

In some circumstances (e.g., working part-time while collecting UI benefits) you may receive partial payments. Certain payments (such as wages, severance, etc.) are deductible from your UI benefits.

NOTE: UI benefits are taxable. You will choose to have federal tax, state tax, both, or no taxes withheld from your UI benefits (when you file an initial claim). You can also update your withholding status in BEACON.

4. What are Maryland's regular UI requirements?

After you apply, you must meet weekly eligibility requirements to receive UI benefit payments, which include:

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• be able and available for work (without undue restrictions) and meet work search requirements (see question #6);
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• file weekly claim certifications on time (see question #5);
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• accept suitable work, when offered;
